

October Traditions

1

Start a Halloween Boo Tradition in your neighborhood.

Halloween Boo is ring-and-run at its finest. Neighbors surprise each other with gifts of candies or other treats along with a Halloween Boo poem. If your neighborhood is not in on the fun yet, think about starting the tradition.

3

Go Trunk-or-Treating.

Yes, you read correctly. Trunk-or-Treat is like tail-gating meets trick-or-treating. Except it's confined to the parking lots of schools and churches.

2

Visit a Corn Maze.

Before it gets too chilly, have fun getting through a winding corn maze.

4

Participate in a Chili Cook-Off.

It's National Chili Month. Of course it is! So, it's time to compete in that chili cook-off competition just like your friends have always said you should. A little bit of googling will take you to listings of cook-offs in your area.
